

Maymester 2016: Spain and Portugal: History and Myth of the Road to Santiago de Compostela

Santiago de Compostela, Coruna, Spain

Why have millions of pilgrims journeyed for centuries from distant lands to Santiago de Compostela? Why will you?

Join Fr. David Orique, O.P., Associate Professor of History and Director of Latin American Studies, and Dr. Karen Holland, Assistant Professor of History, in this culturally fascinating and historically important program open to both undergraduate and graduate students that combines classroom lecture and discussion, and Study Abroad in Spain and Portugal where we will visit, among other captivating sites, the Prado Museum in Madrid, University of Salamanca, the Cathedral of Santiago Compostela, and the Portuguese cities of Porto, Coimbra, and Lisbon

Porto, Portugal

Contact Dr. Karen Holland (kholland@providence.edu) AND/OR Fr. David Orique, O.P. (dorique@providence.edu) for more information.

Earn 3 Credits, travel to Spain and Portugal, and be back in time for summer internships, jobs, or others plans!!!!