

History 100: Protests and Reclaiming Voices in US History

How have disenfranchised overlooked peoples forced others to hear their voices in American history? How do race, class, and culture shape expressions of power in social structures? How have college students and young people successfully achieved social change?

Dr. Orquiza
MWF 2:30-3:20
history.providence.edu